(In Africa)

This is my home now

Am I alone now

Will I be sure now

(In Africa)

This is my home now

Am I alone now

Will I be sure now

(In Africa)

Now I'm living in a land that I don't belong

This is a people who never know the right from wrong

And my life like the land can stretch so far

Will I ever find peace in Africa

Voices on the breeze recalling times and places that I used to know

The message seems to be that I can not escape no matter where I go

How my life like the land can stretch so far

Will I ever find peace in Africa

How can I decide when all my eyes can see an empty land out there

(In Africa)

The world to coincide with the way I feel now you're so far away

(In Africa)

(In Africa)

(In Africa)

This is my home now

Am I alone now

Will I be sure now

(In Africa)

This is my home now

Am I alone now

(In Africa)
