Don't send me on my own
The world's too big a place
For me to have to face alone
I've depended on you
For much too long
And it's too late
For being strong
I can't go through
Life without you
So I'm begging you
Don't destroy me
Don't pull my world out from under me
You destroy me
Taking away the love I'm living for
You can't be made of stone
Not you who loved me so
You couldn't leave me all alone
I'm like a lost lonely child
Who's only safe
Within the warmth of your embrace
Please understand

That's my heart in your hand

And I'm begging you

Don't destroy me

Don't pull my world out from under me

You destroy me

Taking away the love I'm living for

So I'm begging you

Don't destroy me

Don't pull my world out from under me

You destroy me

Taking away the love I'm living for
