Love was found on that sunny day
All around were the bright bouquets
Ours to see, to love, to touch
See the world was made just for us love
Loving while summer lingered on
Then the smile of your love was gone
Like me the roses call your name
And we're crying in the rain
Now the flowers cry
And teardrops fill the sky
Heaven knows you said goodbye
Now the flowers cry
Still the glow of your love is here
It can grow watered by the tears
For now I have a part of you
To share my whole life through
Now the flowers cry
And teardrops fill the sky
Heaven knows you said goodbye
Now the flowers cry
Fly away blue butterfly

You must wing your way to die

You have left me hear to cry

Now the flowers cry

So long blue butterfly

You must wing your way to die
