We've all heard a million stories

Some of them will touch you at the heart

Some of them will leave you cold leave you cold

It's been two long days now

She's starring at the stars

Where's that child of mine tonight

When her soul gets too heavy she needs to laugh out loud again

Now it's time to let her go

(chorus)

Listen to the story of a mother and daughter

(Suno suno ma aur beti ki kahani)

But they both feel the silence under the night sky

The messenger has taken flight

Delivering her from a weary heart delivering a world of change a world of change

She's scared as a rabbit starring into a head light

Hell bent on her own way

Her mind's a million miles away

Mama don't be afraid it's a road I have to follow

Now it's time to let her go

Beautiful sky shining on me

Bring her back home

Bring her back home to me

Home back home

Some of us are chasing rainbows
