(spoken)

Come here boy

Bring around the car

I don't care what you're doing

Remember who you are

I am the daughter of a wealthy man

T' common folks can not reach upto where I stand

You're the boy I love you're a servant's child

So we've got to try to hide our feelings for awhile

I order you around because they expect me to

But I do it just to keep from losing you

'Cause while they watch

I am forced to do

All the things I love

Must be hurting you

Oh but when they go out

Then we won't pretend

I'll give you my love

Just like it has no end

Some mornings I awaken think you're surely gone

Oh but then I find out with happiness you're still staying on

I know its just out of your love for me

That makes you stay around and bear this misery

While they watch

I am forced to do

All the things I love

Must be hurting you

Oh but when they go out

Then we won't pretend

I'll give you my love

Just like it has no end

(spoken) Oh my god they're watching

Oh it hurts to hold back what we feel inside

I should be helping you not tearing down your pride

While they watch

We are forced to do

All the things I love

Must be hurting you

Oh but when they go out

Then we won't pretend

I'll give you my love

Just like it has no end

Oh while they're watching

We must try stopping

We've got to hold our feelings-acapo
