Navy pier at xmas you can go
At 3 am there will be no one
The ferris wheel still turns
As though it's a popular attraction still
And when the songs slowly play through the old broken
PA

A new heart for christmas
She needs a new heart for christmas
Cause you broke it all apart
Put it back together again

Strange holiday maniquins still move
As though someone was watching besides me
Their joints are rusty, they chirp like

Inside there's something alive
Oh no, somehow it strikes me
I need a new heart for christmas
Cause you broke it all apart
Put it back together again
You hit me oh so hard
Put me back together again
