This False Evidence is starting to appear real like a snake in the night biting my neck they say prayer another prayer. ive done that too many times before, i guess its a thing of the past now

Don't look back dont look back this cant be happening is this for real?

im staring my demon right in the face tonight feels like a cold shower over my body can i breathe one more time?

its right here right now, i dont know what to make of this is it normal, this feeling inside my heart has missed so many beats, for me to still, be alive
my anxious body is dripping with sweat can someone take this fear away.

this cant be happening is this for real?
im staring my demon right in the face tonight
feels like a cold shower over my body
can i breathe one more time?

No More fear

this cant be happening is this for real?
im staring my demon right in the face tonight
feels like a cold shower over my body
can i breathe one more time?

this cant be happening is this for real?
im staring my demon right in the face tonight
feels like a cold shower over my body
can i breathe one more time?
