We all tried to save the day
But the sun went down and we never really had the chance
We're all tired anyway
And the sun went down and we never really got the
We've all departed our ways
As the sun went down and we never really had a
We're all tired anyway
And the sun goes down and we never really had the
chance
We never really had the chance
We never really got the chance
We never really got the chance
All by myself, I'm already dead
You'll see right through me
I'll sell my soul, I'm already dead
You'll see right through me
See right through me
