Where did we go wrong?
Why are there bombs where children belong?
We are spent and we never believe the charm.
A smile... is that so hard?
But, with your eyes, I can forget the world.

There is something odd with how the way things are.
Money, power... are they worth it?
I know I must forge on and smile for us all.
But, with kind eyes, you can change the world.

A war between two brothers of,
Two brothers of ____
A thousands swords collide, spark and burn our bodies
alive.

Will it take us 'til death to find a ground to walk on?
It gets worse everyday.

I hope there is nothing to cut, but the blockage in our hearts.
We can be anything we want.
We can be anyone we want.

A war between two brothers of,
Two brothers of ____
A thousands swords collide, spark and burn our bodies
alive.
Will it take us 'til death to find a ground to walk on?
It gets worse everyday.
