Went searching for something that's not there before my eyes my feelings stripped bare the pain youve cause it's hard to hide i wont cover it up with lies what goes around comes around i could really use you now what goes around comes around but you are nowhere to be found Chorus:Manipulated and betrayed now ive seen the path you've laid what goes around comes around i could really use you now i picked you up when you were doen now you're nowhere to be found ive done all that i could do guess im not important to you im here for you but you don't care guess these feelings wont be shared Repeat Chorus what goes around comes around i could really use you now i picked you up when you were down now you nowhere to be found i could really use you now i reach out to an empty space and feel you laughing in my face rejection is now new to me im here for you but you don't see
