once it was something so strong now just a joke you disappeared in an instant, a puff of smoke What you stand for today means nothing tomorrow Better things to do new people to follow How can you turn into someone you would have made fun of? What happened to caring, What happened to love? What happened to your strength and pride? Behind your excuses you cannot hide Complain to me about your lack of old friends But now it's you who moved on in the end I'm still here-Just waiting for you I'm still here-no matter what you do I'm still here-come back to what's true I'M STILL HERE(3X)FOR YOU
