We know why we're here It's in my head, it's crystal clear different from the rest
But not cause how we dress
And it's real It's how we think and how we feel
And if certain things change
I'm still the same, just rearranged Fuck all these fools live by your own fucking rules Do what is right
Not because it's fucking cool
Open your eyes
Your actions effect others' lives certain things change, I'm still the same just rearranged We've shard a bond all these years and we know why we're here and there's a reason why we're still here And what we have is real, it's how we think and how we feel Sure it might seem hard to swallow
But with a life like this what's to follow.
