Your wish is my command
How can I live like this, don't you understand?
You know your wish is my command
Now my life is in the palm of your hand

Memories of better times
Seem to be so far behind
You took a hold of the reigns
I'm left behind to feel the pain

Trampled underneath your feet
Wandering down an empty street
You let me have just a little taste
Then slapped the smile right off my face

Your wish is my command
How can I live like this, don't you understand?
You know your wish is my command
Now my life is in the palm of your hand

One more time I'd like to try
No need to explain the reason why
Where we were is where I want to be
How could you do this to me?

I can't pretend to forget your face
I can't pretend to forget that place
Before I go just answer me this
Is me being dead to you - your final wish?

Just for an hour, or even a minute
This is my dream, I wish we could live it
All the things that you once said
Echoing inside my head

Did I really think I'd spend my life with you?
Please laugh and point once again I'm playing the fool
I'll fake a smile, it's the best I can do
See how easy now I'm just like you

Your wish is my command

How can I live like this don't you understand
You know your wish is my command
Now my life is in the palm of your hand
