"Noreen"

When I dream, I'll be dreaming of Noreen
And the love that I'm leaving behind me.
And the twilight will always remind me
Of my Noreen of Storeen, my love.

Every night, I'll be thinking of Noreen
And the way I would, could only kiss her.
Every bone in my body would miss her.
My Noreen of Storeen, my love.

I curse the day that I left her
And the people who drove me away.
It's worse than I ever imagined,
Oh God, it gets harder each day.

I curse the day that I left her
And the people who drove me away.
It's worse than I ever imagined,
Oh God, it gets harder each day.

So I pray when my exile is over,
With the pain and the heartache behind us,
Back in the peace of the valley you'll find us-
My Noreen of Storeen and me.
Back in the peace of the valley, that's where we will be-
My Noreen of Storeen and me.
