[Killah Priest] The path of peace, the Jedi saga continues Gangsta ganja and criminals, he drinks his white tea Olefine, brain chemicals and out of God is identical He takes it to the pendulum, since his pen begun The super saying in the youth of great men He was slaying, he start praying, ate men Galactic Guardian rap, what you charging for tracks? I wear my heart and my axe, my art is black I'm like a character out of Marvel We are DC, old model, he's remarkable Between two pillars of marble Delta Probe One, the ShoGun A bow tongue, than throw raps like daggers for fun Y'all try to get me, all y'all from Toy land Y'all Milton Bradley brands All y'all stance are coming for the hood Grammy Along with my Sword Clan Along with my Sword Clan Along with my Sword Clan A dark side, seeing when it's dark skies He wears the disguise, the lotus flower buds Taking his blood, power from above Bow down, cross my legs, Indian style In a pow-wow, the thunder dance Meditate, talk to Magneto and Professor X Y'all world's last chance Telepathy like from the mind of Stan Lee My strength in the comic world is like family Your pix sticks of style of rap is weak Try another technique The angel and the beast The seven hundred angles from the Priest I'm the life maker, the life taker The incubator and the cremator The ink on paper till it extinct to vapor Trap rappers in my cosmic cube Fuck Rubix, that dude was a fool There's a shape that I twist that you never thought exist Shape-shifter transcend to self-awareness Self-consciousness Out of me came the beyonder Stars and planets and continents Repeat at rapid speed God doesn't bless the tree But the seas, the seeds make the roots The roots make the tree The trees give off fruit The fruit give off breeds That's different juice, the mic give off oxygen Now y'all can breath Golden age, the diamond age I take y'all to a new rhyming phase See the heroes in the Halls of Justice All over the walls with mics and clutches
