[Killah Priest] The dirt colored clouds spread wide across the skies Over mouths that lie And hover heads of evil thoughts, dead birds fly Money, religions, pigeons walk in circles with their heads cutoff A city with love lost, drugs across with Jesus with feet missing Christians pray, call out of them graves Listen, chapters, psalms, verse 1:49 All of us blind, look at shorty in crime Pause, the years gave no reward, weep more Souls restored, new face, say ya grace Saints, mama faints at the wake Electrical fence or a wedding cake? The choices we make Let the Church kneel and I stand up The gun the shield his handcuff The system stamped us, the TV brand us, cameras His Holy Grail fell, fathers getting darker Martyrs in hell, hotter, gangsters holler from shells Hammers, hands, feet with nails to a dollar Cold sell, all ya answers is backwards What we hear for? What's our true name and culture? Some seek salvation at the aim of a soldier The rain gets colder, our reign's getting closer Jehovah Witness without the Watchtower looking over I'm a Brooklyn roller; I speak how I suppose to The rifle on my shoulder.... BAH!!! Judah Benjamin, Levi since knee high, we live Aruba night Moonlight, goons bless you, Gesundheit Corrupt government, erupt, disrupt coverage Michael Jackson's assassin, had a tab from acid Or tablets, still can't add to his classics He wears a mask, now he's with the Arabs Maybe in Aspen pseudo Priest gon' hiding After info providing, my intro was science rhyming Corporate takeover small business, witness the great cobras Hiss when bullets wisp, fate seal with the kiss I break seals when I spit
