You're sitting next to me
But the rules include no touching
I want to keep you all to me
But I'm afraid that the all-seeing eye is watching
And yes everybody is here, everybody is here
And I know, and I know that they
Will be reminding me of decency
And every time that I make up my mind
I find that I lack the ability
Counting in the rain to fall before the thunder comes
Counting on the rain to fall before the lightning strikes
I'm playing with fire and tempting the storm
Fire!

Your company has become an addiction
I need a fix, at least a fraction
All this is public information
Because I am unable to hide this emotion
I should be sleeping instead of dreaming
I should be keeping myself from
Counting in the rain to fall before the thunder comes
Counting on the rain to fall before the lightning strikes
I'm playing with fire and tempting the storm
Fire!

Counting in the rain to fall before the thunder comes
Counting on the rain to fall before the lightning strikes
I'm playing with fire and tempting the storm
Fire!
