Whats the point in trying to look your best when you know the one you want never looks in your direction he just stares at the one he's wanted all along
As you fall to the ground, you write a nutha fuckin love song for him

And whats the point in tryin to be his one when you know its all messed up This isnt fun
And you stand in the background
and try to get up the nerve But your in the corner out of focus and your blurred
again

Whats the point in trying
Whats the point in trying Whats the point in trying to be his one When u know its all fucked up
And this isnt fun

again

Now whats the point in trying Oh whats the point in trying Whats the point in trying
