take up your arms pick up your courage a black sun is rising as the gods of europe sleep come back into your strength awaken catastrophes atrocities shall summon you my love glory glory how we wait in europe what have they done, what are they doing? the place i love so butchered ravaged scarred and raped
the years have passed us still we're fighting 'til once again somewhere green lands shall be in sight

glory glory how we watch in europe the day humanity is over let nations east and west tremble at the sight 'til standard bearers' eyes are hungry and reason dead forever - god let it be soon
