Tear's edge
Walking around with a hole straight through my heart
Walking on a window without a ledge
I'm on tear's, tear's edge

Out of my head waiting for you to call
I don't ever get lonely
I guess in this case I'm just feeling miserable
It's not the same since you told me

Never have felt like this before
Consider the chance I take
I never kept my eyes on the door
I'm risking everything

I'm walking on tear's edge
Walking around with a hole straight through my heart
Walking on a window without a ledge
I'm on tear's, tear's edge

I'm walking, I'm walking
I'm walking, I'm walking tear's edge

Obviously your number is on her wall
And she don't ever get lonely
You're definitely the one that she wants to call
She's got eyes for you only

You carry the moment in your heart
Consider the price you'll pay
This doesn't have to be the start
Or ending of anything

I'm walking on tear's edge
Walking around with a hole straight through my heart
Walking on a window without a ledge
I'm on tear's, tear's edge

I'm walking, I'm walking
I'm walking, I'm walking tear's edge

Now she wants you back again

Now she wants you back

Never have felt like this before
Consider the chance I take
I never kept my eyes on the door
I'm risking everything

I'm walking on tear's edge
Walking around with a hole straight through my heart
Walking on a window without a ledge
I'm on tear's, tear's edge

I'm walking, I'm walking
I'm walking, I'm walking tear's edge

I'm walking, I'm walking
I'm walking, try walking tear's edge

I'm walking on tear's edge
Walking around with a hole straight through my heart
Walking on a window without a ledge
I'm on tear's, tear's edge

I'm walking
I'm walking
I'm walking

Walking around with a hole straight through my heart
Walking on a window without a ledge
I'm on tear's, tear's edge
