"Lighter Now"

You took me for a fool I saw lines and lines of people on the sides & sides of churches in the dark Church is falling into graves there's clouds hanging over the house that I just bought, and I thought I could be a happy girl now

I walk around a little bit tighter now
I'm just a little lot less lighter now

Seems like I'm always fighting angels It's like I can never see their wings I'm walking around, holding hands with the devil
...just as he wants me to be

I walk around a little bit tighter now
I'm just a little lot less lighter now

All my friends are having visions, sensations, all kinds of revelations
Oh damn
But who's telling lies to who?
And who's watching you escape from what you thought was true?
What's true?

I walk around a little bit tighter now...(drain all your innocence)
I'm just a little lot less lighter now...(drain all your innocence)

drain all your innocence
