they bully us around Say that we are stupid but they really don't know what they're saying they push us all around and they wish it wasn't true but inside they're just kids kids like us

they think they can do everything themselves but they're as small and defenseless as us they make the world their own and for the claiming but they hide they're rightful feelings inside they think we are crazy and silly they think they're so much more mature than us but the reality they cannot face is this that they're just kids

kids like us

I can't let them go
Let's save them!
