gonna tell you all a story now about a girl that lives in my own town if god had meant for twins she might be me from the moment that she wakes up she starts taking on my life and she plays the role so well I can't believe she's outrageous - she's contagious and there's really not a lot that I can do her name is Tracy - she's on the second floor twenty-four-seven she tries to live my life hello Tracy - I hear you through the door and I don't even think you know just who you are now she dresses just the way I do changed her hair 'cause I did too from her head down to her ugly little toes and she's hittin' on this guy I like knowin' that it's all in spite I really think she's tryin' to freak me out

twenty-four-seven she tries to live my life
and I don't even think you know just who you are

if you would only tell me who you are maybe then I'd understand all the mess you made you can't hide away

Tracy - she's on the second floor twenty-four-seven she tries to live my life

Tracy

Tracy - I hear you through the door and I don't even think you know just who you are

hello Tracy
