Translation:

A light so bright it cannot be hidden Breaks
Through the silence and revives in this world

Upon the violently shaking parched earth, We Stake our lives as sparks collide

Just one more time - Let a miracle happen Give Me the strength to take back the page in my Memories I lost in the past..

A heart that believes can pierce through the
Darkness I search for the place where my soul
Slumbers With a sharp glint burning in my
Unblinking eyes

These two hearts of light and dark - Now move
Toward the future, reflected in crystal With eyes
That glow red

Bidding farewell to the days when we licked each Other's wounds, We silently stand up

I will keep that promise I made to you On that Night we kept a small light burning

Within the hazy mirage you appear Prepared to Continue on without losing, whatever happens

With a heart that believes in miracles The Goddess of victory will come for us We can Overcome any obstacle, and will never give up

Two hearts that continue to wander In a world
Whose colors never fade They shine now...
Overlapping eyes

As the moon melts into the sunset Give me the Strength to take back the page in my memories I
Lost in the past..

A heart that believes can pierce through the
Darkness I search for the place where my soul
Slumbers With a sharp gleam burning in my
Unblinking eyes

These two hearts of light and dark - Now move
Toward the future, reflected in crystal With eyes
That glow red, With eyes that overlap
