"Darkness Lifting"

Look at how the moon fits in the sky
It's easy to be lured into the beauty of the night
I've been so lost without the sun
When's the morning ever gonna come
Darkness lifting
From my eyes
Darkness lifting
My soul will rise
Like a phoenix from the ashes i will fly away
I've had lots of time down here to figure out What it was that got me trapped beneath these concrete clouds
But there will be the break of day
And pretty soon the stone will roll away
