There's a sun comin' up on another morning
As the darkness fades.
There's a circle of song that the birds are singing
That follows the light of day.
There's a melody in my heart
I've never heard this way before.
There's a light shining in my eyes
That's got me waking up for more, oh...

Thank you for another day,
For another day to live and love this way.
Thank you for another day,
For another day to have this chance to say,
Ooo... thank you for another day.

All those years that I thought there was something

Missing
It was always there.
All those moments of life that I wasn't living
Were everywhere.
I know we're only passing through
Like the clouds in the clear blue sky,
But I've got all of these friends of mine
And a world of ways to spend this time, so...

I never wanted to be unkind or sit and cry
Or seem unfaithful.
I realize that deep inside I was so grateful
Hey, I only wanted to say...

Thank you for this day etc...
