Cars are turning over and driving away,
I'd like to think of something to talk about.
I can't come up with a consolation prize.
It's not that I want to leave, its that I need to leave. Maybe I should get my things tomorrow, maybe I should sing a little more.
Maybe I should tell you more.
I don't know any more. I don't want you to leave,
I need you to leave. Sometimes when I'm walking,
I can think of my favorite movie or maybe an author.
I only catch his tongue. So take me to a movie, sit at my side. Maybe moving pictures will be easier to let go. With the help of moving pictures it will be easier to let go.
