Boy I'm going insane
all i feeling is pain you let me down for another girl and it's killing me inside

I'm crying in the morning that i have no tears in the evening I give you my world
I give you my life and now you telling me don't have no minute of your time

After all
we been going through
how could you leave me
how could you hurt me
how could you leave me
how could you hurt me

(why,why,why)

how could something so right turn to something so wrong I need to leave my past behind and learn to live of my own

that i have no tears in the evening

how could you leave me

how could you leave me
how could you hurt me

I need to move on, I need to move on, I need to move
with my life
with my life
with my life

how could you hurt me x7
