When love lies beyond lies and you smiling face remains in my mind
And the fights and screaming take a step back and the Feeling of hate goes away at long last
I'm left with your picture in my head
I'm being haunted by you by you voice by your Laugh by you feeling and our past
I'm being haunted and your in the past
One day goes and another passed
I can't get rid of the last words
You laughed I loved you girl you said to Me that night those word engraved like a angel in Satans land. I'm being haunted
