I don't know if i'm dead or alive
All i know is i'm running out of time
Oh, i'm leaving my body... oh, leaving it behind

From the other side, looking down i know that it's me
From the other side, looking down it's the devil i see

Someone down there is saving my life
I see a tear being shed by the eye
Oh, drifting much higher... oh, into the light

From the other side, looking down i know that it's me
From the other side, looking down it's the devil i see

I see the strangest faces
Faces that i've never seen before
They see through empty spaces
Spaces that do not exist no more

I swear by the moon and the devil
I'll be their guardian if they will be mine

There's a demon with red glowing eyes
He's invading the body that was mine
Oh, is there still time... oh, time to return

From the other side, looking down i know that it's me
From the other side, looking down it's the devil i see

I guess i wasn't ready yet
'cause someone there is calling me back from the dead

Demon, demon, are you there
Demon, demon, leave my lair

From the other side, looking down i know that it's me
From the other side, looking down it's the devil i see Wake up!!!
