Pan American nightmare
Ten thousand feet fun-fair
Convinced that I don't care
It's safe as houses I swear
I was just sitting musing
The virtues of cruising
When altitude dropping
My ears started popping
One more red nightmare

Sweat beginning to pour down
My neck as I turn round
I heard fortune shouting
Just get off of this outing
A farewell swan song
See you know how turbulence can be
The stewardess made me (see note)
One more red nightmare

Reality stirred me
My angel had heard me

The prayer had been answered
A reprieve has been granted
The dream was now broken
Thought rudely awoken
Really safe and sound
Asleep on the Greyhound
One more red nightmare

*Note

though it is not listed there is a one after The stewardess...
I believe it is "But the captain forbade me" could be that the CD is definitive edition
the lyrics may not be but I really don't know it's not unusual for thigs to be odd like that (Ohh

that made sense)
