Bubbling up to the top. I'm Breathing under the water.
Waving to you...or so you say I look like I'm drowning.
But I'm just butterfly flailing away from you.
You say your worried about me. And I'd say that it's true.
But I don't know why I'm just treading water till I come up with my next move.
I Can hold my own. it's just a matter of time until I learn how to fly

For now I'm walking under the water.
For now I'm walking under the water.

I'll see you. And I'll smile. And I'll wave. And I'll say hello.
I'll call you up once in a while. Oh, I want to teach you to fly.
Its just a matter of time until we all learn how to fly.

For now you can join me under the water.
For now you can join me under the water.

For now I'm Biding time. Keeping my head above the waterline.
While the water's getting lower I'm floating in space.
Soon I might learn how to fly but for now I'm learning about water.

I'm not a saviour or a saint. I'm just a simple sinner who can swim.
But I'm learning. I'm learning all about water. Learning about water.
