I'm a classic case of Peter Pan but I'll take the blame if I deserve it.

I know I'm a stubborn child but I can't let you walk away and hate me.

Though I admit it would be easier on me if I just let you go.

I'm so afraid of trying...to pursue what I've got with you

I'm so afraid of saying... I... I think I do

I'm so afraid of crying...these tears that I hide from you

I'm so afraid of flying...it scares me to think of needing you

There's only so long I can go solo.

There's only so long I can hide myself from the flights of fancy.

I can't hide myself from the heights of happiness.

But I'm trying to get higher.

I'm so afraid of living...with you always there

I'm so afraid of dying... without you in my arms

I'm so afraid of everything...that commitment represents

I'm so afraid of leaving...leaving here without you

Think happy thoughts and you'll fly.

Think happy thoughts and you'll fly.

Think happy thoughts and I'll fly with you.

There's only so long I can go...solo

There's only so long I can go...solo

There's only so long I can go...solo

There's only so long I can go...solo
