"Unwritten Language"

You're sharing your time - you take me along
You're spreading your wings - keep singing my songs

Who would have known - I'm part of your life
Connected through sound - our spirit inside

Hope I will see you - again and again
Until then I'm your - invisible friend

We've come together - who knows when again
Can't stay forever - to hold all your hands

The unwritten language - the bridge to your heart
It can't take you hostage - helps healing our scars
Intensifies sadness - intensifies love
It often can save you - from falling apart

The rhythm transporting - the beat of our time
The melody calling - from deep down inside

This very moment - you're not alone
The purest dimension - lies deep in your soul
