Impassive thoughts

Ripped from a forgotten day

Tortured words not so easily forgiven

If I'm what you've say I've become

The this is how it must die again

Crawling through your nightmare

Or what it is and what it's always been

Inhaling lifetimes of pain

Condemning your eyes with every breath

Cold hearted and destroyed by living

Pit I have for no one, not felt

Punish me now punish us all forever

This love is a cemetery

If I'm what you've say I've become

The this is how it must die again

If I'm what you've say I've become

The this is how it must die, die again

Punish me now, punish us all forever

Demon's Eyes, demon's eyes see my past

Demonized, demonized by what I thought we had

Demon eyes, demon eyes, demon eyes

See the unspeakable

Demon eyes, demon eyes

Demonized by what I thought we had

Now it must die again

Light of the sky shines down upon

A love that is now a cemetery

With emotional starvation

Hoping that this calm will follow

Unmerciful

Demon's Eyes, demon's eyes see my past

Demonized, demonized by what I thought we had
