In the sky the birds are pullin' rain
In your life a curse has got a name
Makes you lay awake all through the night
That's why

She's intoxicated by herself
Everyday she's seen with someone else
And every night she kisses someone new
Never you

You're waitin' in the shadows for a chance
'Cause you believe at heart, that if you can
Show to her what love is all about
She'll change

She'll talk to you with no one else around
But only if you're able to entertain her
The moment conversation stops, she's gone
Again

She's [Incomprehensible] heart, that if you can She'll change at heart, if you can
But the moment conversation stops she's gone
Again
