There are very many things I would like to say to you But I've lost my way And I've lost my words

There are very many places I would like to go but I Can't find the key
To open my door

The weight of my words You can't feel it anymore The weight of my words You can't feel it anymore

There are very many ways I would like to break the spell You've cast upon Me

'Cause all the time I sacrificed myself To make you want, me Has made you haunt me

The weight of my words You can't feel it anymore The weight of my words You can't feel it anymore The weight of my words You can't feel it anymore

There are very many things I would like to say to you But I've lost my way And I've lost my words

To open my door
