

Kingston Falls

"The Illusionist's Dream"

Visit "The Illusionist's Dream" on MotoLyrics.com

Such a morbid entrance.
I take this as a sign.
We would see a portrait of love when our eyes collide.
When you're between redemption and suicide, hate is
all you have.
This is the illusionist's dream.
There's no happy ending.
Alone, condemned, disguised.
Welcome to the masquerade.
Fear for your life this night.
Grace defies the masquerade.
Help us all.
Welcome to the masquerade.
Break your stance.
Let go of hope, let go of love, let go of sanity.
It's gone, it's done.
You were my triumph, you were my all.
Hear the image, see the sound.
Taste oppression. Let it be.
Feel the setting, be the scene in the eye of the illusionist's dream.
Such a morbid leave.
I take this as a sign.
We would see the portrait of love when our eyes collide.
When you're between redemption and suicide, hate is
all you have.
This is the illusionist's dream.
There's no happy ending.
This is the illusionist's dream.

Visit Kingston Falls page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.