Bye, bye, Thou Little Tiny Child
Bye, bye, lullee lullay
Bye, bye, Thou Little Tiny Child
Bye, bye, lullee lullay

Sisters, too, how may we do
For to preserve this day?
This youngling for whom we sing
Bye, bye, lullee, lullay

Bye, bye, Thou Little Tiny Child
Bye, bye, lullee lullay
Bye, bye, Thou Little Tiny Child
Bye, bye, lullee lullay

Herod in his raging
Chargeth hath he this day
Men of might in his sight
Children young to slay

Bye, bye, Thou Little Tiny Child
Bye, bye, lullee lullay
Bye, bye, Thou Little Tiny Child
Bye, bye, lullee lullay

Woe is me, poor Child, for thee
And every morn and day
For Thy parting neither say nor sing
Bye, bye, lullee, lullay

Bye, bye, Thou Little Tiny Child
Bye, bye, lullee lullay
Bye, bye, Thou Little Tiny Child
Bye, bye, lullee lullay
