Well I don't need you honey, 'cause things just ain't the same. Since you've been going out with other fellas, Things have really changed. Well I needed you once, But now I'm standing alone. I don't need you any more. I don't need you any more. I don't need you any more. If I ever lost you, Then I will surely have died, That's what I thought. Things have changed a little, honey, Now I'm a wiser guy. Well I needed you once, But now I'm standing alone. I don't need you any more. I don't need you any more. I don't need you any more. Well I never thought that I'd love you again, But my luck has changed, now I'm free. I don't need you any more. I don't need you any more. I don't need you any more. If I ever lost you, Then I will surely have died, That's what I thought. Things have changed a little, honey, Now I'm a wiser guy. Well I needed you once, But now I'm standing alone. I don't need you any more. I don't need you any more. I don't need you any more. I never thought that I'd love you again, But my luck has changed, now I'm free. I don't need you any more. I don't need you any more. I don't need you any more. I don't need you any more....
