See that girl walking down the street
She looks like a prima donna
She's a star in her head and the world's at her feet
She looks at you twice and your heart skips a beat

She didn't learn it at high school
Or from a glossy magazine
You see she's a natural, she got a natural gift

You gotta rise above your stupidity
You're dumb but don't give in
You gotta rise above your station
Discover what's within

And with some luck and dedication
And some careful manipulation

Everybody needs some inspiration
Everybody needs some motivation
Mix it up with some imagination
And use your natural gifts, you got natural gifts
You got natural gifts
And use your natural gifts, you got natural gifts

You don't have to be a genius to find
All the hidden potential deep in your mind
You don't have to know about a nuclear physics
To know all the formulas and vital statistics

You don't have to be an intellectual
You don't have to be a scientist
To use your natural gifts, you got natural gifts, yeah
You use your natural gifts, you got natural gifts

You gotta stop this depression you're in now
Stop this emotional rift, you need a psychological lift now

Everybody needs some inspiration
Everybody needs some motivation
Mix it up with some imagination
And use your natural, natural gifts

There are bad people, mad people
Bitter people, scared people
Wanna put you down and keep you in your place
But you got a chance to break out, break out
You got a chance to get out, get out

And use your natural gifts, you got natural gifts, yeah
Use your natural gifts, you got natural gifts, yeah
It's a natural gifts
