Finding reason in between the lie 'cause I don't know why
Is there something you can feel inside that won't pass me by?
Things that we planned out of my hands now
All the distance, something missing, does it matter?

I can't be there, I won't be there
I can't be there, I won't be there

Room for two
Only room for two
There's only room for two

So you're gone now and I can't decide that comes from the time
All between us and you can't deny what has passed you by
Thus division now, indecision now
All the distance, something missing does it matter?

I can't be there, I won't be there
I can't be there, I won't be there

Room for two
Only room for two
There's only room for two

I can't be there, I won't be there
I can't be there, I won't be there

Room for two
Only room for two There's only room for Room for...
Room for two
