Chad VanGaalen
"City Of Electric Light"

And I thought you were the moon in the sky
But it turned out you were just a street light
You were burning like a hole in the night
You were burning like a city of electric light
You were burning like a city of electric light
You were burning like a city of electric light
You were burning like a city of electric light

And I thought you were the moon in the skies
But it turned out you were just a pair of eyes
You were lurking like a creature in the night
You were looking like a city of electric light
You were looking like a city of electric light
You were looking like a city of electric light
You were looking like a city of electric light

Hanging by a field
Hanging in your sleep
Hanging in a dream
Oh oh oh oh...

He connect the stars
Every single one
Hanging like the sun

Oh oh oh oh...

And I thought you were the moon in the sky
But it turned out you were just a street light
You were burning like a hole in the night
You were burning like a city of electric light
You were burning like a city of electric light
You were burning like a city of electric light
You were burning like a city of electric light