Who you waiting for, I hope it's not me
Cause if you're waiting for me, that's a century
Who you waiting for, I hope it's not me
Cause if you're waiting for me, it's infinitely

Flesh and blood and broken bones was I
Until I left it all behind in a coal mine
Now that mockingbird sings like a car alarm
Yeah does the song she's been singing keep our hearts warm

My blood is red when it spills from me
But my blood turns blue when you're not with me
My blood is red when it runs through me
My blood runs true when your heart's with me

Who you waiting for, I hope it's not me
Cause if you're waiting for me, it's a century
Who you waiting for, I hope it's not me
Cause if you're waiting for me, it's infinity

Flesh and blood and broken bones am I
And I left that all behind in the diamond mines
What about all of the sound buried underground
Will we still feel the vibrations if it's never found

My blood is red when it flows from me
My blood turns blue when you're not with me
My blood is red when it runs through me
My blood runs true when your heart's with me
