Verse 1

Look into my heart and you will see pieces of a broken man
Behind the music there's an empty space that no one seems to understand
Imagine how it feels to be so down you cannot hear a melody
Imagine how it feels to look in the mirror and never like what you see

Chorus

Who can make my dark clouds brighter
Who can take my broken spirit higher
Who can love me like I really need to be loved
I can hear a quiet voice say, I can

Verse 2

Can you really love me even though I've done a lot of wrong
If I had to write down my mistakes the list would be too long
Is your blood strong enough to save a dying man like me
Can you tell these chains to let me go so my spirit can be free

Vamp

I can love you, I can hold you, I can keep you, I'll never leave you,
I can save you, Because I made you, I can hear a quiet voice say, You know
I can, You know I can, You know I can, I can hear a quiet voice say, I Can
