How is it that I remain invisible in your eyes?
I've lit a thousand candles, wished on every star in the sky...

Your burden is heavy...

Now there's no one to hold you at night when you cry yourself to sleep, (cry yourself)
How fiercely blow the winds of change when two souls
drift apart,
Let the warmth of the sun kiss your face, heal your broken heart...

Another day, another night,
Another tear, another fight,
Another dream torn apart,
A lonely path in the dark...
