Annie I see your face in a window
Now you're a single I can't leave you out you see You are my friend so do me a favour Don't even say the whole thing's a catastrophe

Wild on the town
We had no time to write our adventures down
We've been around

Never a day goes by I don't thank you
You paid for me to have a spanish holiday
We drove them crazy, fell about laughing
Swimming and drinking all the sunstroked day away

Out of our heads we could wind up the dead with a word or two Here's to you

We're going to run away from all of this to somewhere
good someday
We're going to run away from all of this to somewhere
good someday

I can remember when we seemed older Ever so bold we packed some punches now and then
When you were going out with an airbrain

I helped you realise and you felt better then Friends don't need passports
But sometimes we need some telepathy
You and me

We're going to run away from all of this to somewhere
good someday
We're going to run away from all of this to somewhere
good someday

And when things aren't so good
Don't let them get you down
If you ever need us then you know we'll be around
I don't just mean me
We'll care for you

And you know that is true
Well you should by now

Anyhow
We're going to run away from all of this to somewhere
good someday
We're going to run away from all of this to somewhere
good someday
