Starboard cried the Captain as we steered our charted course

Lightning flashed and thunder crashed, the ship of love was lost

Rode the storm and waited for the calm to come

Then you grabbed your things and chose to run

Hey can you tell me what I need to know

I'm gettin' the feelin' and it's starting to grow

I'm starting to love you

And this feeling just won't go

Just won't go

(background singers:)

Lovin' was just a game I played with anyone

But losin' you ain't easy now it's hard to carry on

(Danny:)

Well I was just the singer, and you seemed to like the song

Now all that's left are the words since the melody's gone

Hey can you tell me what I need to know

I'm gettin' the feelin' and it's starting to grow

I'm starting to love you

Just won't go

If your leavin' leaves me feeling better

Well how come tears are in my eyes

If I could do things right

I'd be a new man overnight

Ooh...overnight

Hey can you tell me what I need to know

I'm gettin' the feelin' and it's starting to grow

I'm starting to love you

Just won't go

Hey can you tell me what I need to know

I'm gettin' the feelin' and it's starting to grow

I'm starting to love you

Just won't go
