Eyes say more than thousand words
Expose the soul that flows in me
My inner warmth, my inner bleed
My deep anxiety
This sight is where you can read
My illogical personal achemy
Falling in my stream
I can't hide, you can feel what my heart can reveal
Falling in your stream
I grow in from without finding whom
I have to see
Lies sometimes tell what is true
Inside of me, inside of you
Shaping the colour expected to be
Tone ambiguity
This sight is where we play
Our logical way
Falling in my stream
I can't hide, you can feel what my heart can reveal
Falling in your stream
I grow in from without finding whom

I have to see

So you take my beliefs that I burn inside, inside of me

So you listen endless fights, in my eyes they break and blow away

Seeing through... you can hear more than just... words I say

I can't hide, you can feel what my heart can reveal

Falling in my stream

You grow in from without finding whom

You have to see
