Say what you will
I will walk past
That plate of glass
Your time has passed

Don't ever say it's my time
Burning hatred will light my way
Don't ever say it's my time
Burning hatred will light my way

A choice not an echo
And as our world comes down
I will be there

You look so pretty, digging your grave
You look so pretty what's left to save?
You look so pretty, digging your grave
You look so pretty what's left to save?

Say what you will
Eyes to the skies

Don't ever say it's my time
Burning hatred will light my way
Don't ever say it's my time
Burning hatred will light my way

A choice not an echo
And as our world comes down
I will be there

You look so pretty, digging your grave
You look so pretty what's left to save?
You look so pretty, digging your grave
You look so pretty what's left to save?

You look so pretty right now
You look so pretty right now
You look so pretty right now
You look so pretty right now
